Agenda

Dealing with Reports of COVID, COVID Symptoms, or Sickness

What do you do when:

- Employee says they are sick
- Employee or member is sick or reports positive COVID19 test
- Employee or member reports they think someone else is sick or has COVID

Sick Employees

What do you do when employee says they are sick:

- Encourage sick employees to stay home
- Send sick employee home immediately
- Symptoms? (cough, fever, difficulty breathing, chills, muscle pain, headache, sore throat, or recent loss of taste of smell)
- Employee should call a healthcare provider and seek medical advice
- Clean the area where the person worked and the tools and equipment they used prior to use by others

Notice to Employees & Members

To all employees and members:

- You should avoid entering Club facilities if you have a cough, fever, or other COVID-19 symptoms.
- You must maintain a minimum six-foot distance from non-family members.
- You must wear face covering at all times on the premises.
- If you sneeze or cough, please do so into your elbow.
- Do not shake hands or engage in any unnecessary physical contact.

Sick or Positive COVID test

What do you do when employee or member is sick or reports positive COVID19 test:

- Gather information:
 - When did symptoms start?
 - Was employee/member exposed to COVID19?
 - With whom did employee come in to close contact (within 6 feet / 10 or more minutes) in the two days prior to first symptoms?

Sick or Positive COVID test

What do you do when employee or member is sick or reports positive COVID19 test:

- Communicate with others:
 - Notice to those exposed
 - Notice to others
 - Maintain confidentiality (no name, no position, no other identifying information)

Sick or Positive COVID test

When can employee / member return?

- Testing-based strategy
- Symptom-based strategy
- Time-based strategy (for those without symptoms)

Sick or Positive COVID test

Symptom-based strategy - Ensure employees / members do not return to work until both of the following occur:

- At least three full days pass with no fever (without the use of fever-reducing medications) and improvement in respiratory symptoms.
- At least ten full days pass since symptoms first appeared.

Sick or Positive COVID test

Testing-based strategy - Ensure employees / members do not return to work until the following occurs:

- Resolution of fever without the use of fever-reducing medications;
- Improvement in respiratory symptoms (e.g., cough, shortness of breath); and
- Negative results of an FDA Emergency Use Authorized COVID-19 molecular assay for detection of SARS-CoV-2 RNA from at least two consecutive respiratory specimens collected at least 24 hours apart (total of two negative specimens)
- A test-based strategy is contingent on the availability of ample testing supplies and laboratory capacity as well as convenient access to testing.

Sick or Positive COVID test

Time-based strategy:

- Positive test but no symptoms
- At least 10 days have passed since the date of their first positive COVID-19 diagnostic test assuming they have not subsequently developed symptoms since their positive test.
- If they develop symptoms, then the symptom-based or test-based strategy should be used.
- Note, because symptoms cannot be used to gauge where these individuals are in the course of their illness, it is possible that the duration of viral shedding could be longer or shorter than 10 days after their first positive test.

Reports about others

What do you do when employee or member reports they think someone else is sick or has COVID:

- Gather information
- Monitor for symptoms / sickness
- Send sick employees home immediately
